CONTRACT FOR LOMITA STS. AWARDED

MUNICIPAL IMP. CO. GETS BIG CONTRACT FOR $211,491; LA HONDA WANTS HELP TO STOP PICKING OF RED BERRIES.

The contract for the improvement of Lomita Park streets was awarded the Municipal Improvement Company at Monday's meeting of the county supervisors. The price accepted for the work was $211,491. This was the lowest of six bids submitted. There was considerable discussion over the award, forty-eight residents of Lomita Park protesting against the award at the price given. Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey stated that as the residents of Lomita Park had voted three to one in favor of the street improvement, he thought the contract should be awarded. A resolution was then introduced awarding the work and received a unanimous vote in its favor. Mrs. W. B. Tavelle, superintendent at the new Community Hospital, reported that from the opening of the hospital, September 10th, to October 31st, there had been two deaths and two births and that now there were twenty-seven patients being cared for.

For the newly incorporated town of Atherton, Attorney A. H. Redington asked that the proportionate share of the road funds be turned over to the new town. This was referred to County Auditor Shields for information as to the amount involved.

A communication from the La Honda Promotion Association asked that an officer be detailed to prevent visitors to that region from picking red berries contrary to law. The clerk was instructed to answer that at present the county has no officer available for this purpose. The board will meet again next Monday morning.

WILL ORGANIZE TO BOOST HIRAM FOR PRESIDENT

Followers of Senator Hiram Johnson will meet at the courthouse in Redwood City tonight (Thursday) for the purpose of organizing a "Johnson for President" club. The meeting has been called by County Clerk Mrs. George A. Kneese and will be attended by prominent Republicans from all over the county.

HILLTOP SIGN STIRS MUCH COMMENT

Great Placard Catches Eye for Miles on Train, Highway and Skyline.

The huge sign on the hill announcing to the world that this is South San Francisco, an industrial city, is now complete and is attracting much attention, judging from reports heard from many people passing through town. Hundreds of comments have been made by those gathered at Tanforan for the races, and many driving up the peninsula have spoken of the big announcement catching their eye while still many miles away. Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey states that it is also plainly visible from the hills to the southwest along the route of the new Skyline boulevard.

A few facts about the enormous sign are interesting. First of all, it is probably the largest sign of its kind in the West and one of the largest in the United States. Each letter is about fifty feet high and the average width of each is about half that figure. The second line, reading San Francisco, is approximately 325 feet long; the third line, reading The Industrial City, being nearly 475 feet long.

The sign was made by the Chamber of Commerce of this city under the personal direction of Secretary D. R. Phelps. Many barrels of water, lime and cement went into its making, its cost being over $300. Several trucks were tried out before one was found that could climb the hill with the materials used. It has been some weeks in the making as work progressed, and Mr. Phelps could give time to it or secure the assistance necessary.

CHAMBER URGES ALL VOTE FOR SEWER BONDS

Committee Appointed to Boost for Bonds; Local People Urged to Trade at Home.

The proposed bond issue for sewer extension in this city was the main subject of discussion at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. There was a good gathering of the members present and practically all mingled in the discussion. There was a unanimous opinion expressed among those present that the extension of the city's sewer system was much needed and that for the good of South San Francisco the bond issue should carry with a large majority. The discussion developed the idea that a committee should be appointed to work for the bond issue, and such committee was appointed by President Dr. F. S. Dolley. Those appointed were J. W. Coleberd (chairman), G. Ucelli, I. H. Potter, B. H. Truax, Steve Garbarino, Mrs. Mary Di Vita, Peter Pala, E. C. Peck, Dr. J. C. McGovern and Robert Speed.

Secretary D. R. Phelps informed the gathering that the next meeting of the Bay District Secretaries' Association would be held in this city December 14th. The association is composed of secretaries of the Chambers of Commerce of bay counties. More particulars of this meeting will be found in another column of today's Enterprise.

The fact that the Superior Steam Laundry in this city has recently installed a good deal of expensive machinery and is now one of the most up-to-date institutions of its kind in this region and well worthy of the trade of the people here was brought up, and all urged to patronize this local laundry. It was brought to the attention of all, too, that the new building and plant of the South San Francisco Bakery was almost completed and would soon be in operation, and that here also was an institution that all residents of South San Francisco should patronize.

The huge sign on the hill above the high school came in for discussion, all agreeing that it was something that showed enterprise and that the town could well be proud of it. Secretary Phelps of the Chamber received much praise for the hard work he has done in having the sign made, and was instructed to address letters of thanks and appreciation to County Surveyor George A. Kneese and Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey for the part they have taken in assisting.

The secretary reported that practically everything was settled as to the three highway signs to be erected on approaches to the city, the only thing now standing in the way of the signs being put up being the illness of two employees of the Foster & Kleiser company who have the work in charge.

SECOND SKYLINE UNIT OPEN DECEMBER 1st

The second unit of the Skyline boulevard, opening the highway as far as the Spring Valley dam bridge, will be open to travel by Saturday, December 1st, Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the State Highway Commission, announced Monday. Opening of this unit will add approximately eleven and one-half miles of first-class boulevard.

Mr. Toy informed officials of the California State Automobile Association that the highway commission is in readiness to complete the Skyline boulevard through to Woodwardia, and awaited the arrangements of fencing and opening the rights of way.

At present the boulevard is open for a distance in excess of five miles from the intersection of the Great Highway and Sloat boulevard. The Skyline runs along the crest of the mountains to the intersection of the Halfmoon Bay road. With the opening of the second unit the boulevard will extend approximately seventeen miles.

Toy announced that the new unit will remain open all winter and will not be closed until late in spring, when it is dry enough for rock. He also announced that the highway commission was prepared to proceed with the engineering problems and the advertising of bids on the completion of the boulevard.

FIRE AT SHIP HOTEL

The fire department was called to the Ship Hotel just before noon Tuesday, the fire being caused by the overflowing of an oil tank in the rear of the building. The oil ignited, but the prompt arrival of the department and the vigorous use of chemical extinguished the blaze.

A. T. ARNDT BUYS NEW STORE BUILDING

Deal Closed for New Building Next Door; Two Stores to Be Connected.

Expansion and improvement is ever the rule at the store of A. T. Arndt, and within the last week a deal was closed which will make this store one of the largest in this city.

The deal was for the new store building next door east of Mr. Arndt's present location. The new store was purchased from R. McColgan of San Francisco, who constructed the building recently. It has not been occupied since its erection, and will now be opened by its new owner and operated as part of the Arndt store. Mr. Arndt has announced that he proposes to make an opening through the wall that separates the two buildings and run the new store as a men's furnishings department, his present store being continued as a dry goods and women's furnishings institution.

The new store room will be immediately fitted out with shelving, counters and fixtures and within a few weeks will be opened to the public in time to handle the trade of the coming holidays. This addition will practically double the floor space of Mr. Arndt's store.

It has been announced that the races at Tanforan will take place Sunday instead of Saturday, on account of the football game between Stanford University and the University of California occurring Saturday.

PLUMBER TELLS BIGGEST FISH STORY

Menlo Park Man Declares He Battled With Man-Eater in Bay.

W. C. Casey, plumber of Menlo Park, had a thrilling battle with a huge shark while duck hunting Tuesday near Dumbarton Point, according to reports from Redwood City.

Casey, armed with a shotgun, was several hundred feet from the shore in a small canvas boat when charged by the big fish. Several times the shark dashed against the boat, being met with shots from the hunter's gun at each charge. The boat was badly damaged, and Casey had a narrow escape from being thrown into the water at the mercy of the big man-eater.

After twelve shots had been poured into the body of the fish, Casey succeeded in getting a tow on the prize and hauled the shark to shore. The big fish measured 9 feet in length and weighed 240 pounds, it was reported.

Mrs. C. W. Meyer entertained eight friends Wednesday, the afternoon being spent in sewing.

IN THE COURT OF JUDGE J. G. WALKER

Burglary Suspect Goes to Jail; Two Punished for Carrying Guns.

A man giving the name of A. J. Rind was up before Judge J. G. Walker Wednesday morning on a charge of burglary, and was held over for one week for a preliminary hearing with his bond set at $500. Unable to furnish such bond, Rind was sent to the county jail. Rind was discovered Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. S. Giannini at the Twelve-Mile House. He was first seen in the house by Mrs. Giannini's young daughter. Frightened by the girl's screams, the man ran into the willow swamp near by, where he was found by Officer Louis Belloni, who was on the ground quickly in response to a telephone call.

A Mexican named Jesus Rozales, apparently intoxicated, created a disturbance in the Grand Cafe last Saturday night by flourishing a gun. He was gathered in by Belloni and brought before Judge Walker. A charge of carrying concealed weapons was preferred against him and he was fined $100.

Jose Hernandez, another Mexican, arrested by Belloni, was up before his honor Tuesday on a charge of carrying concealed weapons and was given sixty days in jail to think it over.

Five violations of traffic law cases were up in court last week. All paid cash fines of from $5 to $25.

MANY C. OF C. MEN COMING TO THIS CITY

Chamber of Commerce Secretaries to Visit This City December 14th.

December 14th, South San Francisco will entertain a group of men numbering a score or more who are the latest boosters of the bay region. They are the members of the Bay District Secretaries' Association, and each is the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce in the town he represents.

The men who will arrive here will come from San Mateo, Santa Clara, San Francisco, Contra Costa, Marin and Sonoma counties. Their organization holds monthly meetings in different towns of their district, the last meeting being held at the quarters of the California Development Association in San Francisco. D. R. Phelps, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, was instrumental in getting the coming meeting for this city.

The visitors will be entertained here at lunch, and after their business meeting will be taken on a trip over the factory and residence districts of this city.

YOUNG SINGER SCORES BIG MUSICAL SUCCESS

Miss Emilia Da Prato Enthusiastically Received in Concert; Many Fine Numbers by Local Artists.

The recital given by Miss Emilia Da Prato at the high school auditorium last Saturday evening was one of the outstanding musical events of the season. The assembly hall at the school was well filled with music lovers and friends of the young local singer, and all were keenly appreciative of the numbers rendered by Miss Da Prato and the artists who assisted her. Andrew Bogart, eminent vocal instructor, under whose personal direction the concert was given, expressed himself as well pleased with the results of the evening.

Miss Da Prato was given an ovation each time she appeared. After her first selection, "Dawn," in response to insistent encores she sang "The Star Song," and after "Voi lo sapete" she sang "Sole Mio." She also delighted her audience with "A Little Song" and "These Many Years," a composition of Mr. Bogart's dedicated to Miss Da Prato. As the final number by request she gave a very effective rendition of a selection from "Madam Butterfly."

Judge J. G. Walker, well-known local tenor, was roundly encored in each of his three selections, his reception giving indisputable evidence of his popularity.

M. L. Spangler and H. A. Bewley gave a cornet duet that was a real treat. They were accompanied by Mrs. Spangler.

Verne Kelsey of San Francisco proved himself a master accompanist as well as a soloist, and vocal numbers given by Miss Mabel Dyer and Jerome Devoto were much enjoyed.

In every way Miss Da Prato's recital was an outstanding success and was most gratifying to her, to Mr. Bogart and to the Industrial Club members who assisted in the arrangements and in the sale of tickets.

LOCAL POSTOFFICE TO GET OUT DIRECTORY

Postmaster L. G. Hardy is taking steps this week to secure information looking toward the compiling of a mailing directory for this city. To expedite this work a slip is going to every house, having blanks for the names of the persons within the house with the occupation of each. This city has never had an efficient directory compiled and the postoffice is often at a loss in the delivery of mail where no street or number appears on the envelope. Those receiving the slips in the mail this week will render a real service to the postoffice and to the town by filling out their slips carefully and returning them to their mail boxes for the carriers to pick up.

WIELDS RAZOR IN DOMESTIC DIFFICULTY

Mr. and Mrs. E. Parker (colored), who live at one of the cottages near the Western Meat Company plant, had a little difference of opinion last Saturday. The argument waxed warm and Parker sought to impress his views on his better half by the aid of a razor. As a result, Mrs. Parker was treated at the South San Francisco Hospital Saturday night for many vicious-looking cuts and slashes on her right arm. Parker was rumored to have sustained a few cuts, bruises, lacerations and abrasions himself during the melee, but these were not serious enough to necessitate a visit to the hospital.

SHOWING FORD MODELS

The special display of Ford cars and trucks and Fordson tractors being held this week by Fred J. Lautze, local Ford dealer, is attracting much attention from both residents of this city and those living near by.

The week has been set aside by the San Francisco branch of the Ford Motor Company for a complete showing of Ford products throughout the entire branch territory and dealers everywhere are participating.

The special display will continue over Saturday and the show rooms on San Bruno road will be open every evening until 9 o'clock.

SEND A BILLION MARKS TO GERMANY

Postmaster L. G. Hardy announced this week that the international money order service of the postoffice department has recently been extended to include Germany for the first time since the war. It is now possible to send money orders to Germany from the local postoffice. Any person wishing to send a few billion marks to relatives in Germany may do so by leaving a few cents with Mr. Hardy.

ORGANIZE FOR COMMUNITY CHEST

MOVEMENT STARTED TO FINANCE DESERVING CHARITIES FROM A CENTRAL FUND; I. H. POTTER IS CHOSEN PRESIDENT.

South San Francisco is to have a "Community Chest" to care for all local charitable and humanitarian funds, following a meeting held at the city hall Wednesday evening of this week. The meeting was well attended by representative citizens and those present were unanimous in their opinion that such a plan, which is in accord with the community chest movement now under way in many cities, was the best and most feasible way to finance all appeals for aid.

That similar movements were growing rapidly in many cities at the present time and that the community chest idea is proving practical, was the opinion expressed by several speakers. Among them were Rev. Father J. P. Moran of All Souls' Church, Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey, Mrs. E. C. Peck and I. H. Potter, president of the Bank of South San Francisco. The plan, as outlined, is to form one large fund by quarterly collections instead of holding numerous drives or campaigns as has been the custom in the past. Out of this fund all deserving appeals will be assisted as far as possible. Such causes to be helped will include local deserving charitable cases, Red Cross, tubercular service, furnishing of nurses for the sick who are unable to hire them, etc. In line with the latter cause the Rev. Father Moran spoke feelingly of the pressing need for such assistance in this city at the time of the great epidemic of influenza in 1918. Mrs. E. C. Peck told of the praiseworthy work now being done by the county Social Service Commission.

To carry on the work of securing and disbursing funds of the community chest the following organization was perfected: President, I. H. Potter; secretary and treasurer, J. W. Coleberd; chairman of finance committee, E. C. Peck. About $1000 has already been voluntarily promised toward the fund.

Lloyd W. Thayer was named a committee of one to investigate ways and methods now being followed by San Francisco in managing its community chest.

CITY TRUSTEES IN BUSINESS SESSION

Standard Gets Permit; Cunningham Demands Return of City Money.

As no objections to the erection of a Standard Oil Company gasoline station at the northwest corner of Miller avenue and San Bruno road have been forthcoming, a permit for such a station was granted at Monday evening's meeting of the city trustees. It is understood that work on the station will start immediately.

A request from the Pacific Gas and Electric Company for permission to erect a pole on Park way was referred by the trustees to the street committee.

The local lodge of Druids and the Steelworkers' local were both granted permits to hold dances in the near future.

E. E. Cunningham and his attorney, J. J. Bullock of Redwood City, were on hand and made public demand that the trustees either individually or collectively return to the city treasury the money paid the Kane Detective Agency. The demand was made twice by Mr. Cunningham, Mayor G. W. Holston replying that the board did not care to make any reply to the demand.

After auditing a number of bills against the city the board adjourned, to meet again next Monday evening.

The rummage sale conducted by the Woman's Club in the Cunningham building has proven so successful it has been decided to continue it a short time longer.

The Enterprise is now on sale at Jennings' Pharmacy.

Thanksgiving
in Days of Grandmother

OUR grandmothers began preparation for Thanksgiving day long before it arrived. Pickles of all sorts, apple sauce and preserves were prepared ahead of time. Mince meat was mixed that it might ripen and acquire a more delicious flavor. All the vegetables were ready for the pot on Wednesday night, the chickens or turkey were stuffed, the puddings and pies were prepared and there was nothing to do on Thanksgiving day but cook the dinner.

Garnishes and Turkey Stuffing.
Oysters belong to Thanksgiving, according to tradition, because friendly Indians who joined the early celebrations brought gifts of shellfish. A garnish of fried oysters is tasty and appropriate to surround the turkey, or a dish of scalloped oysters may accompany the turkey, or an oyster cocktail or oyster soup may be served before the turkey, or may be molded in a thin layer of jelly, which should be cut out with a fancy cutter so that the oyster appears in the center of a tomato or aspic jelly, and is laid on tender lettuce leaves with mayonnaise placed beside it.

A cupful of chopped peanuts blended with two cupfuls of coarse bread crumbs or cracker crumbs and seasoning is a fine stuffing for the turkey.

To prepare chestnuts for a stuffing, first gash the shell, brush the nuts over with beef drippings and put in the oven for a few minutes. When heated, shell and skin are easily removed. Cut the nuts in small pieces, then add them to an ordinary bread mixture, or they may be put through a potato ricer, seasoned and used alone.

Sausage croquettes are good for a turkey garnish. Buy one pound of sausage meat, add to it one cupful of soft bread crumbs, form into balls the size of English walnuts, dip in beaten egg, roll in bread crumbs and fry in deep hot fat.

Cranberries With Turkey.
Left-over turkey, especially the white meat, may be cut in cubes and blended with enough warm cranberry jelly, not too sweet, to hold it in shape when cold.

The combination of cranberries and raisins, popularly known as mock cherry, is good for a pie filling or as a conserve. The proportion is half as many raisins as cranberries and both should be cut in halves.

Old-fashioned Cranberry Dumplings.
—Prepare a cranberry sauce from one quart of cranberries, one and one-half cupfuls of water and two cupfuls of sugar. Make up a biscuit dough with two cupfuls of flour, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of sugar and three-fourths of a cupful of milk. Shape the dough into rounds and steam them for twelve minutes. Serve with the cranberry sauce, accompanied by a hard sauce made of brown sugar and butter.

Cranberry Punch.—Cook one quart of cranberries in three cupfuls of water until soft, then press through a sieve. Add two and one-half cupfuls of sugar and the juice of two lemons, and stand on ice for about four hours to chill. Serve in glasses with maraschino cherries or candied cranberries.

Menus to Choose.

Yellow is the Thanksgiving color, just as red belongs to Christmas. A pumpkin fruit basket is effective to use as a centerpiece, and small pumpkins, or gourds, may serve as candlesticks or be shaped in basket form to be filled with nuts and raisins at each plate.

The Home Feast
Day

NOVEMBER has come with its festival day, The sweetest home-feast of the year, When the little ones mingle in frolic and play, And share in the Thanksgiving cheer.

And let us remember that tale of the past, Of the Pilgrims who gathered their band, And offered up thanks for the corn when at last It waved o'er the famishing land.

For hunger had wasted those strong, patient men Who struggled and labored in pain, And the blessings of plenty which gladdened them then Gave courage and hope once again.

And the fame of their bravery never decays, While year after year rolls away, Since the morning that ushered in prayer and in praise The birth of our Thanksgiving Day.

Thanksgiving
—Then

IN THESE days of rush and rustle, the advent of Thanksgiving serves most of all to remind us of what wondrous changes time has wrought. The Thanksgivings of our fathers and those of today are no more alike than the minuet and the fox trot, the dances that well typify the era of the present and the past. About the only thing left to us from out of the old days is the Thanksgiving turkey, and even this bird is not now held sacred and necessary for this festival.

The very mention of the word Thanksgiving brings to the mind a picture that modern conditions have turned to the wall. It is a picture of the time when life was simple in its pleasures and robust in its strength; when people were really folks; when the race and rivalry of life did not extend their office hours over the entire day. That state of things has now passed away. It has followed in the wake and the trail of the pioneers and the other figures of the American national life that was but is not.

In the old days there were tippets and mitt'ns, things that hang in memory's closet on the same nail as the high stock, men's shawls and daguerrotypes. Gone are the marvelous tippets that went round and round the neck until a person was swathed like a mummy of ancient Egypt. Gone, too, are the mitt'ns knitted at home in colors of sunset and sunrise blue, those cozy ancestors of gloves. As for the bootjack, in these days of luxury and ready-made shoes it is as unknown as any creature of the prehistoric age.

No longer does Thanksgiving bring the real mince pie, that culinary triumph of every well-regulated household, with its wonderful fruity flavor, that cunningly combined the qualities of solidity and crispness, a pie that even if dangerous to health made a danger well worth facing and putting down. Compared with the bakery-built substitute of today the mince pie of those days was a vintage pie, as far above its modern rival as a vintage wine is above the grocery wine for cooking use. Its existence was a splendid testimonial to the physical traits of the men and women of the era in which it flourished.

Even the plum pudding, that carnival of richness, is disappearing from the stage. It is giving way to ice cream, that mollicuddle of digestion that invites to slow eating and deliberate enjoyment.

The Thanksgiving stage is now set with new scenes and new characters. There is the cabaret and terrapin, and football and the theater. There is the social function in place of the family festival; and in the evening hours the elaborate entertainment in the gilded ballroom, in place of the homely dance to the strains of the fiddle and the bow and the ministrations of the merry, squeaking fiddler. Truly, the coming of this holiday and its observance well measures the distance that the nation has gone from its life and its habits in the days when Thanksgiving day was young

Thanksgiving

THE celebration of Thanksgiving day has a long and curious history, in which it is the province of a woman to play no inconspicuous part. The earliest aspect of the day takes us back to the chronicles of the Israelites, among whom there is mention throughout the Bible of days set apart for special thanksgiving unto the Lord. Later the custom was not uncommon in England before the Reformation, and was taken up and continued by the Protestants afterward.

Thus it was that at its inception there was no regularly appointed time for this celebration. Sometimes it would be observed once a year, sometimes twice, and then perhaps a year or two would be skipped—according as reasons for thanksgiving presented themselves or not.

Among the colonists it was customary for the president to issue a proclamation recommending that the people cease from their ordinary occupations and observe a day of thanksgiving, with proper ceremony, at some specified time, but it was usually left to the governors of the various states to determine whether there should be such a day, and when.

This irregular course and unofficial-like treatment of the observance might have continued in vogue indefinitely but for the well-directed and strenuous efforts of Mrs. Sarah J. Hale, editress of Godey's Lady Book. She realized, perhaps more forcibly than others at the time, that the celebration of Thanksgiving as then observed lacked character and impressiveness, which could be remedied only by the adoption of measures bringing the people to concerted participation on this occasion. Therefore she assumed and devoted herself to the task of writing to all the governors of the different states and territories, urging upon them the propriety of a national thanksgiving and suggesting the last Thursday in November as the day for such celebration. She continued to write these letters year after year, and was finally rewarded for her efforts by all the governors, excepting two, granting her request.

However, the people's response was not enthusiastic, and during the Civil war, especially in the South, the custom lagged.

Immediately after the battle of Gettysburg Mrs. Hale wrote President Lincoln, inclosing a copy of Washington's Thanksgiving proclamation, and suggesting that he also proclaim a day of national thanksgiving. The President acted upon her suggestion and issued a proclamation "for the observance of Thursday, August 16, as a day of national thanksgiving, praise and prayer."

From that time on the celebration of the day lost its local and variable character and took on the fitting dignity of a national and stable ceremony. Lincoln's successor appointed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving day, and the date has continued unchanged ever since.

Thanksgiving day is a legal holiday in every state, territory and possession except Utah, where it is observed, though not on the statute books.

At the Farmers' Institute.

Every Iowa county has its Farmers' Institute. Usually it is held in the county seat, and is a gathering of farmers for the purpose of listening to improving discussions and addresses both instructive and entertaining. The Woodruff district was interested in the institute, however, because of the fact that a rural-school exhibit was one of its features that year, and that Colonel Woodruff had secured an urgent invitation to the school to take part in it.

Such exhibits are now so common that it is not worth while for us to describe it; but then, the sight of a class of children testing and weighing milk, examining grains for viability and fowl seeds, planning crop rotations, judging grains and live stock was so new in that county as to be the real sensation of the institute.

Two persons were a good deal embarrassed by the success of the exhibit. One was the county superintendent, who was constantly in receipt of undeserved compliments upon her wisdom in fostering really "practical work in the schools." The other was Jim Irwin, who was becoming famous, and who felt he had done nothing to deserve fame. Professor Withers, an extension lecturer from Ames, took Jim to dinner at the best hotel in the town, for the purpose of talking over with him the needs of the rural schools.

"You've got to come down to our farmers' week next year, and tell us about these things," said he to Jim. "Can't you?"

Jim's brain reeled. He got to a gathering of real educators and tell his crude notions! How could he get the money for his expenses? But he had that gameness which goes with supreme confidence in the thing dealt with.

"I'll come," said he. "Thank you," said the Ames man. "There's a small honorarium attached, you know."

Jim was staggered. He tried to remember what an honorarium is. Was he obliged to pay an honorarium for the chance to speak before the college gathering? Well, he'd save money and pay it.

"I'll try to take care of the honorarium," said he. "I'll come." The professor laughed. It was the first joke the gangling innovator had perpetrated.

"It won't bother you to take care of it," said he, "but if you're not too extravagant it will pay your expenses and give you a few dollars over."

Jim breathed more freely. An honorarium was paid to the person receiving the honor, then. What a relief! "All right," he exclaimed. "I'll be glad to come!"

"Let's consider that settled," said the professor. "And now I must be going back to the opera-house. My talk on soil sickness comes next. I tell you, the winter wheat crop has been—"

But Jim was not able to think much of the winter wheat problem as they went back to the auditorium. He was worth the appreciation of a college professor, trained to think on the very matters Jim had been so long mulling over in isolation and blindness!

Callista Simms thought she saw something shining and saint-like about the comely face of her teacher as he came to her at her post in the room in which the school exhibit was held.

"Come and tell us about those things."

Callista was in charge of the little children whose work was to be demonstrated that day, and was in a state of exaltation to which her starved being had hitherto been a stranger. Perhaps there was something similar in her condition of fervent happiness to that of Jim. She, too, was doing something outside the sordid life of the Simms cabin. She yearned over the children in her care, and would have been glad to die for them—and besides was not Newton Bronson in charge of the corn exhibit, and a member of the corn-judging team?

To the eyes of the town girls who passed about among the exhibits, she was poorly dressed; but if they could have seen the clothes she had worn on that evening when Jim Irwin first called at their cabin they could perhaps have understood the sense of well-being and happiness in Callista's soul at the feeling of her dress, and the "boughten" cloak she wore—and any of them, even without knowledge of this, might have understood Callista's joy at the knowledge that Newton Bronson's eyes were on her from his station by the big pillar.

"Hello, Callista!" said Jim. "How are you enjoying it?"

"Oh!" said Callista, and drew a long, long breath. "Ah'm enjoying myself right much, Mr. Jim."

"Any of the home folks coming in to see?"

"Yes, seh," answered Callista. "All the school board have stopped by this morning."

Jim looked about him. There they were now, over in a corner, with their heads together. He went toward them, his face still beaming with that radiance which had shone so plainly to the eyes of Callista Simms, but they saw in it only a grin of exultation over his defeat of them at the hearing before Jennie Woodruff. When Jim had drawn so close as almost to call for the extended hand, he felt the repulsion of their attitudes and sheered off on some pretended errand to a dark corner across the room.

They resumed their talk.

"And as I was sayin'," went on Bonner, "I want to get this guy, Jim Irwin. An' bein' the cause of his gittin' 'the school,' I'd like to be on the board to kick him off; but if you fellows would like to have some one else, I won't run, and if the right feller is named, I'll line up what friends I got for him."

"You got no friend can git as many votes as you can," said Peterson. "I tank you better run."

"What say, Ez?" asked Bonner.

"Suits me all right," said Bronson. "I guess we three have had our fight out and understand each other."

"I don't like the way Colonel Woodruff acts," said Bonner. "He rounded up that gang of kids that shot us all to pieces at that hearing, didn't he?"

"I tank not," replied Peterson. "I tank he was just interested in how Jennie managed it."

"Well," said Bonner, "he seems to take a lot of interest in this exhibition here. I think we'd better watch the colonel. That decision of Jennie's was crooked."

"Vell," said Haakon Peterson, "talk of crookedness wit' Jennie Woodruff don't get very far wit' me."

"Oh, I don't mean anything bad, Haakon," replied Bonner, "but it wasn't an all-right decision. I think she's stuck on the guy."

The caucus broke up after making sure that the three members of the school board would be as one man in maintaining a hostile front to Jim Irwin and his tenure of office. It looked rather like a foregone conclusion, in a little district wherein there were scarcely twenty-five votes. The three members of the board with their immediate friends and dependents could muster two or three ballots each—and who was there to oppose them?

CHAPTER XIII

The Colonel Takes the Field.

Jim stood apart and alone with his thoughts after his rebuff by the caucusing members of the school board.

"I don't see," said a voice over against the cooking exhibit, "what there is in this to set people talking. Buttonholes! Cookies! Humph!"

It was Mrs. Bonner who had clearly come to scoff. With her was Mrs. Bronson, whose attitude was that of a person torn between conflicting influences. Her husband had indicated to the crafty Bonner and the subtle Peterson that he was still loyal to the school board, but while consorting with the censorious Mrs. Bonner she evinced restiveness when the school and its work was condemned. Was not her Newton in charge of a part of this show? Was he not an open and defiant champion of Jim Irwin, and a constant and enthusiastic attendant upon, not only his classes, but a variety of evening and Saturday affairs? And had not Newton become a better boy—a wonderfully better boy?

Mrs. Bronson's heart was filled with resentment that she also could not be enrolled among Jim Irwin's supporters. And when Mrs. Bonner sneered at the buttonholes and cookies, Mrs. Bronson, knowing how the little fingers had puzzled themselves over the one, and young faces had become flourey and red over the other, flared up a little.

"And I don't see," said she, "anything to laugh at. I'd like to help them."

Mrs. Bonner was far too good a diplomat to be cornered in the same enclosure with a rupture of relations. "And quite right, too," said she. "The little things ought to be helped—at home and by their mothers."

"Well," said Mrs. Bronson, "take them Simms girls, now. They have to have help outside their home."

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Bonner, "and a lot more help than a farm-hand can give 'em in school. I shouldn't wonder if there was a lot we don't know about why they come north."

"As for that," replied Mrs. Bronson, "I don't know as it's any of my business so long as they behave themselves."

Again Mrs. Bonner felt the situation getting out of hand.

"Ain't it some of our business?" she queried. "I wonder now! By the way Newtle keeps his eye on that Simms girl, I shouldn't wonder if it might turn out your business."

"Pshaw!" scoffed Mrs. Bronson. "Puppy love!"

"You can't tell how far it'll go," persisted Mrs. Bonner. "I tell you these schools are getting to be nothing more than sparkin' bees, from the county superintendent down."

"Well, maybe," said Mrs. Bronson, "but I don't see sparkin' in everything boys and girls do as quick as some."

"I wonder," said Mrs. Bonner, "if Colonel Woodruff would be as friendly to Jim Irwin if he knew that everybody says Jennie decided he was to keep his cert-kit because she wants him to get along in the world, so he can marry her?"

"I don't know as she is so very friendly to him," replied Mrs. Bron-

"I Have Invited Him to Make an Address."

son; "and Jim and Jennie are both of age, you know."

"Yes, but how about our schools bein' ruined by a love affair?" interjected Mrs. Bonner, as they moved away. "Ain't that your business and mine?"

Instead of desiring further knowledge of what they were discussing, Jim felt a dreadful disgust at the whole thing. Jennie was against him, he believed, and as for her being in love with him—to hear these women discuss it was intolerable. He felt his face redden as at the hearing of some horrible indecency. And while he was raging inwardly, paying the penalty of a publicity to which he was not yet hardened, he heard other voices. Professor Withers, County Superintendent Jennie and Colonel Woodruff were making an inspection of the rural-school exhibit.

"I hear he has been having some trouble with his school board," the professor was saying.

"Yes," said Jennie, "he has. Proceedings before me to revoke his certificate."

"On what grounds?"

"Incompetency," answered Jennie. "I found that his pupils were really going very well in the regular course of study—which he seems to be neglecting."

"I'm glad you supported him," said the professor. "I'm glad to find you helping him."

"Really," protested Jennie, "I don't think myself—"

"What do you think of his notions?" asked the colonel.

"Very advanced," replied Professor Withers, "Where did he imbibe them all?"

"He's a Brown Mouse," said the colonel. "A phenomenon in heredity—perhaps a genius."

"Ah, I see," replied the professor, "a Mendelian segregation, you mean?"

"Certainly," said the colonel. "The sort of mind that imbibes things from itself."

"Well, he's rather wonderful," declared the professor. "I had him to lunch today. He surprised me. I have invited him to make an address at Ames next winter during farmers' week."

"He?"

Jennie's tone showed her astonishment. Jim the underling. Jim the off ox. Jim the thorn in the county superintendent's side. Jim the country teacher! It was stupefying.

"Oh, you mustn't judge him by his looks," said the professor. "I really do hope he'll take some advice on the matter of clothes—put on a cravat and a different shirt and collar when he comes to Ames—but I have no doubt he will."

"He hasn't any other," said the colonel.

"Well, it won't signify, if he has the truth to tell us," said the professor. "Has he?" asked Jennie.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

During the Discussion, "Bah, you have no religion." "Yes, I have a religion, but I don't get mad over it."

Looking back to "the happiest days," one remembers that quite frequently it was only part of a day.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(By Mrs. Burnett-Smith, author of "The Kitchen Cabinet")

The true patriot is the man who can eat an imitation beefsteak, with a smile on his face, and tell the woman who prepared it that it is as good as the real thing.—Mrs. Burnett-Smith.

COLD-WE/THER DISHES.

The chilly days speed up the appetite and we enjoy foods that are heavy and richer than those served during the warm weather. Casserole dishes are especially favored with those who like to put a whole meal into the oven or fireless cooker and go off for a ride in the bracing air, coming back with an appetite equal to a good nourishing dish of vegetables and meat. When one lives where chestnuts are to be found at a reasonable price in the market the following dish will not be an expensive luxury:

Casserolet Castelnau.—This is a famous historical dish. Soak a quart of lima beans in a saucepan with water to cover; put over the heat and let them just come to the boiling point and then set them aside for an hour. Drain the beans, add fresh boiling water and set them over the fire and cook until nearly done. Place in casserole two cupfuls of cooked chicken or duck, turkey or any fat fowl, add the drained beans, and onion sliced, half a cupful of strained tomato, a quart of chicken broth and a teaspoonful of kitchen bouquet. Bake one hour, uncover, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs, chopped parsley, brown and serve.

Oyster Cocktail Sauce.—For five oysters use a teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar, a tablespoonful of tomato catsup, a teaspoonful of lemon juice, four drops of tabasco sauce and a pinch of salt. Mix all the seasonings thoroughly, add the oysters and chill before serving. Chili sauce, grapefruit juice or oyster liquor may be added if desired.

Chestnut en Casserole.—Remove shells from three cupfuls of chestnuts, put into a casserole and pour over three cupfuls of highly seasoned chicken stock. Cover and cook in a slow oven for three hours; then thicken with two tablespoonfuls of butter and one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour, season well with salt, pepper and a little grated onion. Combined with chicken this makes another delightful dish.

We shall advance when we have learned humility; when we have learned to seek truth, to reveal it, and publish it; when we care more for that than for the privilege of arguing about ideas in a fog of uncertainty.—Walter Lippmann.

WHAT TO EAT

Canned corn is such a wholesome vegetable and is so well liked that a few dozen cans put on the cellar shelf will be enjoyed during the winter. After serving the corn with butter, cream and seasoning of salt and pepper, if any is left over make some fritters to serve with the fried chicken.

Peas a la Francaise.—Cook three tablespoonfuls of butter with one slice of bacon for five minutes; remove the bacon and add two cupfuls of peas and eight small peeled onions. Cover with boiling water and cook until the vegetables are soft. Drain, add one-fourth of a cupful of cream and one egg yolk slightly beaten. Season well with salt and pepper.

Mushroom Soup.—Brush one-half pound of mushrooms, break caps into small pieces and chop the stems. Add to three plums of chicken broth, bring to gradually to the boiling point and let simmer thirty minutes. Cool and clear with the whites and shells of two eggs. Season to taste and serve hot.

A platter of overlapping slices of cold roast lamb may be garnished with mounds of hot cooked spinach in which is placed a seasoned poached egg—the whole finished with a border of watercress.

Allen Potato Salad.—Cut cold boiled potatoes into one-half-inch cubes. Take one and one-half cupfuls. Add three chopped hard-cooked eggs, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of chopped pimento, one-half tablespoonful of finely chopped onion. Moisten with a cream salad dressing and serve in nests of lettuce.

Hashed Brown Potatoes.—Try out fat salt pork cut into small cubes and remove the scraps; there should be one-third of a cupful of fat. Add two cupfuls of cold boiled potatoes finely chopped, pepper and salt if needed. Mix potatoes thoroughly with the fat, cook three minutes, stirring constantly, then let stand to brown underneath. Fold as an omelette and turn out on a hot platter.

Celery With Caviar.—Arrange celery prepared by fringing three-inch stalks of tender celery—let them stand in cold water to curl. Then drain, wipe and fill the uncured portion with caviar and place on a plate with a radish cut into the form of a tulip, and a crisp leaf of head lettuce.

NURSE GAINS 15 LBS. ON TANLAC

Miss Mary Early, 1531 North 20th St., Omaha, Neb., practical nurse for the past fifteen years, prompted by gratitude for the Tanlac treatment, because of its benefits to her and others, recently gave out the following statement:

"Tanlac is the one medicine I can recommend knowing full well it merits the highest praise, not only because of what it has done for me, but because of what I have seen it do for others. My brother was flat on his back with typhoid for a long time, and afterwards was so weak he could barely walk from one chair to another. I gave him Tanlac and it was simply marvelous the way it built him up. "Nursing him through this illness left me weak and exhausted. I couldn't eat anything to speak of and my food hurt me, but Tanlac gave me a keen appetite, strengthened my digestion, and I gained fifteen pounds in weight and am still in perfect health. As a nurse and user of Tanlac, I give it my unqualified endorsement."

Costs Less to Keep Clean.

More than 250,000 deaths and over 4,500,000 cases of serious illness annually are ascribed by Federal and State health reports to needlessly unsanitary conditions. It is an amazing fact that most of this needless lack of sanitation is found, not in the cities, but among the rural and small-town population.

Yet wholly sanitary conditions may be brought about in the country just as quickly and easily as in the city. The actual expenditure involved is very small, especially when you consider how much the family's health will be improved as a result. It will assure also, of course, a great improvement in comfort.

Septic tanks, privy vaults, protection for domestic water supplies, rat-proof outbuildings—all of these can be provided for a little cost and a little work by any man. Full directions on how to do it, what is the best structure for each job, what tools you will require, how much cement, how to mix and place the concrete—all this may be had free on request to the Portland Cement Association, 111 West Washington Street, Chicago. Ask for "Concrete in Home Sanitation"; you will get it free by return mail.—Adv.

SAN BRUNO

Miss Lillie Wedell, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wedell of Belle Air Park, is suffering from a bad case of blood poisoning, brought about by a neglected blister on her right foot.

Bert Witham of First Addition, who has been ailing for some time, was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital Monday awaiting developments which may necessitate an operation.

Mrs. Pollis of Huntington Park expects her niece from St. Louis, Mo., next week on a visit. It is not improbable that she will make her home here in the West.

Mrs. Knutson, formerly of Huntington Park but more recently of Kansas, has again returned to our midst, stopping for the time being with her sister, Mrs. Wright.

There is rejoicing in the Wiedemann home over the arrival in San Bruno last Saturday from Seattle, Wash., of the two youthful sons of Thomas Wiedemann, editor of the San Bruno Recorder.

Norman Skellenger of Fourth Addition, suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis, was rushed to the South San Francisco Hospital Tuesday to undergo an operation.

John Schadi of Belle Air Park is suffering from a case of blood poisoning in his right hand.

Herman Sick of First Addition is numbered among the sick.

Dr. Dominguez and family of Fourth Addition, accompanied by their neighbor, Mrs. T. Marecek, motored to Santa Cruz last Sunday, where they enjoyed a sumptuous chicken dinner at the home of Mrs. Dominguez's parents. Toward evening the hostess journeyed with her guests to San Bruno for a brief visit.

City Attorney Postlethwaite is endeavoring himself to the local taxpayers by the excellent services he is rendering in the capacity of legal adviser. In the few months that he has been on the job he has straightened out many tangles and besides saved the taxpayers several thousand dollars in real money. In the matter of widening the highway bridge near the cabin, toward which the city was to contribute $2000, he pointed the way to save the whole amount, and in connection with the payment of some-thing in excess of $2000 to the railroad companies for the Angus avenue crossing, of which sum $600 had been paid in installments, he called a halt, declaring in effect that trying to squeeze such an exorbitant sum of money out of San Bruno for one single street crossing savored of a coup. When it comes down to municipal law, City Attorney Postlethwaite is there with bells on. More power to Postlethwaite.

The improvement work in Huntington Park is rapidly nearing completion. Another week or two of favor-

AUNT MEHITABLE'S PRESENT

Aunt Mehitable had a powerful and active imagination that often kept her awake. She was ever creating difficulties by imagining them and making things crooked by trying to straighten them out. "Hiram," said she, "I can't think what has got into George; I didn't like the way he looked at us this morning."

"Probably he was thinking of somebody else," answered her brother.

"George," began his aunt the next day, "what was the matter with you yesterday morning, you looked sourer 'n pickles."

"Nothin' was the matter with me," said the boy, "I was puzzlin' over your Christmas present." Then he added, "Since you're so mighty suspicious, I guess I'll give it up." But remembering her goodness of heart, George relented, and, when the day that shines away all unpleasantness came round, Aunt Mehitable had a new nightcap!

able weather and the job will be finished.

Residents of Belle Air Park and Fourth and Fifth additions are elated over the fact that the "city dads" had their streets, which are still unpaved, put into passable condition for the approaching rainy season.

With the Tanforan racing season drawing to a close, local interest is beginning to center on the race for city trustee at the spring election. Two candidates mentioned ready to enter the race are J. Galleher and W. Hedberg.

Put Christmas Wreath in Its Rightful Place

HEY were putting up the Christmas tree in the village community house with happy anticipations. Meanwhile two little folks and a dog were enjoying themselves on a big ice cake along the bay shore. As the ice moved off with the tide the children laughed with delight, but Pluto, after dropping his tail and thinking a moment, surprised them by giving a running leap into the water and striking out for the shore.

Not long after, Sim Gannett opened the door of his boat house to see what the dog was barking about and was greeted with a shower as Pluto shook himself. Then the dog ran in, stood upon his hind legs and begged, cocking his eyes towards the open door. As Sim did not understand this Pluto caught hold of his coat and pulled him towards the doorway. Thinking that the dog meant something, Sim, finally looked out and saw the ice floating seaward with the two small figures upon it.

It did not take the old fisherman long to get his boat down to the water and push it out through the floating ice, and soon two youngsters and a happy dog were huddled up in the bow of the returning boat.

After the carols were sung that night, they put the holly wreath that had graced the top of the tree upon Sim Gannett's neck, but Sim took it off and put it upon Pluto and he acted as though he knew that he deserved it.—Christopher G. Hazard.

Gay Christmas Thrill the Greatest of All

HE love in our hearts toward our fellow men; the happy, expectant, gay eagerness of children and their joyous, merry voices; the pure, white, soft beauty of snow; the deeply refreshing aroma of the forests which for a brief period we bring into our homes; the cheer of the home fireplace; the bringing together of all members of the family; the gaiety and the enthusiasm of Christmas shoppers; the stores, decorated and looking their best in holiday attire; the cordial, heartfelt greetings which are extended to us and which we extend to others; the renewing of old-time friendships by the sending of a bright Christmas card; the generosity in our souls toward all; the carols which ring out the Christmas spirit of ardent worship; the bright, significant stars twinkling down from the heavens above; the simplicity and the beauty of the Christmas season; all form a part of the great Christmas thrill. There is no thrill in the world like unto it!—Mary Graham Bonner.

NOT WHAT HE EXPECTED

LITTLE DICK was too young to spell—he went entirely by sound. Consequently he suffered a great disappointment on Christmas morning. When he beheld his Christmas tree he said solemnly: "You said it would be a fur tree, daddy!"

"It is a fir tree," answered his father.

"But I thought it was going to look like my kitty!" wailed Dick.—Martha B. Thomas.

A Late "It" Arrival Came Just in Time

EVERYONE was watching, waiting, hoping. They all hoped "it" would surely arrive on time.

They hoped "it" would not fail them.

"It" helped the Christmas season so much.

Everyone and everything loved "it." The children loved "it," the grown-ups loved "it."

The trees of the forest loved "it." And then "it" arrived. "It" arrived late—almost when everyone was giving "it" up. But even though "it" was a late arrival "it" was not too late for Christmas day. "It" came late Christmas eve.

And haven't you guessed what "it" was?

SNOW of course!—Mary Graham Bonner.

THE HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Christmas spirit necessarily finds many men and women stranded on the shoal, off somewhere, far from the general happiness.

Nevertheless, words of Chandos are vital. "The faculty for happiness is a gift, in any temperament, whose wisdom and whose beauty this world too little recognizes." Chandos' thought is not easy for a certain type of mortal to cultivate, but the holiday spirit may to an extent help out. Self-recognition was soundly urged by Marcus Aurelius many centuries ago, and writings of other Stoics preach tranquillity and harmony through the philosophy that says, "It may all be for the best."

BOTH DISAPPOINTED

He—I expected you'd stand under the mistletoe when I called.

She—And I expected you'd have an armful of Christmas presents.

ERASTUS' CHRISTMAS TREE

"Where's yo' gwine?" was the question, as Erastus passed by with a good-sized Christmas tree. "I's been where I's gwine," was the rather enigmatical answer.—C. G. Hazard.

Homemade Cloth Toys

Scraps of canton flannel, elderdown, plush and velvet serve to make many little animals, cut by paper patterns, the parts machine stitched together and stuffed with sawdust or cotton. Glass-headed pins or buttons serve for eyes; covered wire, colored paper and yarn stitching help in many cases to supply details.

Designs in Silk Bags

Very handsome handbags, in new patterns of figured or brocaded ribbons, will make their recipients happy this Christmas. The envelope bag pictured is made of tapestry ribbon, bordered with black, and the bag below it reveals a richly colored Egyptian design with mock jewels set along the mounting. Both are lined with plain silk, and colors are chosen to suit individual fancy.

Rag Doll Is Beloved

In spite of all her beautiful rivals, little Miss Rag Doll grows more popular all the time—all little kiddies love her. She is pictured here made of unbleached domestic, her face sketched in with water colors, clad in a pink gingham dress and white lawn bonnet.

BERTUCCI-BOCCI WEDDING

The wedding of Miss Katherine Bertucci, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bertucci, and Edward Bocci was one which will be long remembered in Colma. The services took place in Holy Angels' Church, which was artistically decorated for the occasion. An archway of palms and flowers was made through the center of the church. The Rev. POWER companies in California do not fix their own rates.

Rates are fixed by the public through their well informed agents, the Railroad Commission, which also requires continuous, uniform, efficient service.

The public gets power and gas at cost, which includes cost of material, cost of help, a fair return upon the reasonable cost of the property used (out of which interest is paid), and taxes. Cost does not include improvident or unnecessary expenditures, or any expenditure of which the public does not get the benefit. No profits are guaranteed in rates. Success depends on efficient, economical management.

Service at cost does not mean service without cost

No one has invented a method by which any form of service can be given permanently below cost. Every utility service must pay its own way or fail.

But nowhere else in the United States is hydro-electric power so cheap, so abundant, or so commonly used as in California. That is because of natural advantages coupled with efficient management under our system of public regulation.

CERTAIN TEST

Two fishermen were angling in a river, when one suddenly dropped his rod.

"Say!" he ejaculated. "Did you see that feller fall off that cliff over there into the river?"

"Don't get excited, Bill," soothed the other. "Mebbe it was a movie actor makin' pictures."

"But, my stars! How kin we tell?"

"Well," counseled the judicious one, "if he drowns, he ain't."—Epworth Herald.

"I purchased several cakes of RAT-SNAP from Erwin-Craig Hardware Company, this place, and find same the most effective exterminator of mice and rats I have ever used. As far as I have noted, there is no odor connected with use of RAT-SNAP.

This is the first testimonial I have ever given for any preparation of any kind. I feel after using your RAT-SNAP it is worthy of commendation." Three sizes, 35c, 65c, and $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Carmody's and Peninsula Drug Store.

SENIORS

Friday, November 16th, the seniors held a class meeting to make final plans for the circus. It was decided to have three concessions: "Styles of Nations," fortune teller and the dance. The seniors considered themselves lucky to secure the assembly hall for the dance, as at least two other classes also wanted the hall. The president appointed a decoration committee and a music committee to carry out the plans of the class for the dance.

After the plans for the circus were decided upon, the seniors turned their attention to raising some money for their own treasury. After the usual lengthy discussion, it was decided to have a senior dance December 15th. After their great success at the whist party the seniors feel brave enough to go ahead and make more preparations for the Iris.

Mr. Weller then brought up the question of graduation announcements. A representative from T. V. Allen & Co. had already interviewed the class and displayed the different types of announcements and their prices. Mr. Weller explained to the class that the announcements would cost 32 cents for the first hundred and then become cheaper the more the class ordered. The members of the class decided upon the number they intended to order, and it was found that the announcements would cost around 17 cents each. The class decided that was a little too expensive, so the president appointed a committee to go to the other engraving announcements. The meeting was then adjourned and members of the class are awaiting the report of the committee.

On Monday, November 19th, the seniors held a short special meeting to plan for a candy sale. It was found that next week a great many other affairs were going on, so it was decided to hold the sale this week. Friday was suggested, but quickly put aside when some one mentioned the girls' basket-ball game. The seniors knew that the girls on the team would not be able to buy any candy and did not want to tempt them. It was decided to hold the sale Wednesday.

THE BIG CIRCUS PROGRAM

This big show will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium Friday evening, November 30th. Be on time to see it. No extra admission. Remember, 7:30 p. m. General program. Gymnastic performers, high-class vaudeville actors and all kinds of circus stunts. DON'T MISS IT!

110s AND 120s ARE DEFEATED

The 110- and 120-pound teams of South San Francisco were defeated by the San Mateo teams on San Mateo's court last Wednesday. The scores were close, the 110s losing 10-7 and 120s by 10-9.

Both games were fast and hard fought throughout, and it was only the experience that San Mateo had of knowing their court that won the game for them. We are sure that if they had played on our court the score would have been the reverse.

With defeat we lost our chances for winning the championship and feel the defeat very keenly. Anyway, we'll get another crack at 'em next year.

HOCKEY GAME

South City journeyed to San Mateo last Wednesday to play for the championship and were beaten, 4-2.

At the end of the first half the score was 2-1 in our favor. The third quarter opened with a rush and San Mateo made a goal, tying the score. The fourth quarter San Mateo played us off our feet and scored two goals.

San Mateo has been defeated once, so has South San Francisco. These two teams are tied for the championship, and the tie will be played off Wednesday on our field.

S. S. F. GIRLS PLAY REDWOOD

The South City unlimited girls played the Redwood unlimited team on Redwood's court. The local team went down to Redwood not knowing what kind of a team they were going to play. The game was a fast one and good sportsmanship was shown by both teams. The score was South City 30, Redwood 5. After the game the Redwood girls gave the South City girls a spread, at which speeches were made by the coaches and captains of both teams.

THUG SUSPECT STRIKES DOWN NEW POLICE OFFICER

Jack Skrine, newly appointed police officer, who started work on the local force last Thursday, had a disagreeable experience at the hands of an unknown thug Saturday night. Attempting to arrest the man, who was acting in a suspicious manner, Skrine was struck a crushing blow in the stomach with a heavy missile and temporarily laid out. The man escaped in the darkness. A heavily loaded blackjack was found where it had fallen after Skrine had been struck.

(5) Cats or dogs won't touch it. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Carmody's and Peninsula Drug Store.
